Marriage Of Miss Alice Wood And Mr. Martin Kuhl Unites Two Pioneer Families

PIONEER families of two of the earliest-settled areas of northern Alberta were united on Tuesday evening when Alice Florence Wood, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood of Moon Lake, near Leduc, became the bride of Martin Conrad Kuhl, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuhl of Spruce Grove.

The ceremony was performed at Grace Lutheran church, 107 street, with Rev. H. J. Boettcher, minister of the church, officiating.

By reason of the close circle of friends enjoyed by both families, the church was crowded to its capacity, many guests coming from outside points, including Clearwater, Leduc, Stony Plain and Spruce Grove.

Profusion of flowers, pretty pre-dominating, formed a fragrant fragrance in the chancel of the church for the ceremony and as the bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, Mrs. James Hendry, at the altar, the organ, played the bridal chorale from Wagner's opera, Lohengrin.

LOVELY PICTURE

Freckled gracefully in blue and white and girly, her dress fashioned with a very full skirt, the bride made a most lovely picture. Graciously for her wedding, she wore a jacket to match her gown and a small cap with a feather, and a bouquet on which were blue forget-me-nots.

Her bouquet was of pink English roses. Attending the bride was Miss M. Prick, who wore a gown of shell-pink French ribbon, made on Princess line and with quaint lacework tucked into the skirt, finished with a long row of tiny buttons in the same material. She wore a small half-hat with the same tones with shoes and gloves to match.

Interviewing Toronto Writer Is Just "Carrying Coals To Newcastle" Reporter Finds

Now all we have to do is sell some insurance to an insurance man. Carrying coals to Newcastle, we wended our way to the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday morning to interview some insurance salesman, who is teaching people to interview other people.

Miss Alice Harrison Parsons, whose thought-provoking articles frequently appear in many of the popular Canadian magazines, proved very sympathetic, however, impulsive to get at her handily and say, "Well, what shall we ask you now?"

FASCINATING JOB

Lecturer in newspaper and magazine article writing at evening classes given under the department of extension of the University of Toronto, Miss Parsons has a most interesting occupation for the classes are tremendously popular and are attended by people from every social group and of every age from 17 to 80. Many people, of course, are interested in the strictly technical side of the instruction while a great majority enjoy it as much as anything the study of magazine style with a view to coming to a better appreciation of the art.

ABILITY PLUS TECHNIQUE

Expressing a wish that similar writing instruction will soon be given to the public, Miss Parsons said that while native ability was essential, a study of the technique of writing is of immense value. "It's just like photography," she explained. "As a camera operator, a photographer just points the camera and anything that happens to be in the way appears on the film. But, as a writer, he has to select or choose."

MISS HILDA C. CROOK

Pharmacist at the General Hospital, Edmonton, Miss Hilda C. Crook was visiting in Victoria, B.C., coming to Edmonton at an early age, has made her home here since.

Receiving her schooling in Edmonton, Miss Crook attended the Oliver Public, Westmount and Victoria, High Schools, and continued her academic career at the University of Alberta.

She is a graduate of the University, having received her bachelors diploma in pharmacy from that institution with the graduating class of 1936.

Upon her graduation from University she started her business career with the General Hospital, where she has been employed since.

Club interests of Miss Crook are absorbed by the Alberta Pharmacy Association, of which she is a member, and by the Quakers of the University of Alberta.

As a member of one of the committees supervising the arrangements for the national-wide pharmaceutical convention which will be held in Edmonton, Miss Crook is busy at present with convention details.

Following the ceremony and extending through the day, the reception at the home of the bride's parents at 12030 101 street was attended by a large number of guests.

JASPER JOTTINGS

By JAY PARKER

JASPER, July 6.—Domestic Day was a red letter day on the calendar of every child in Jasper. For their honor a mammoth Kidney Sport Day was arranged. Sponsored by the Red Cross, the day was a most successful one.

At the beginning of the day, the children were divided into teams. The first team to cross the finish line was the winner. The day was a most successful one.

Trustees Ponder Plans to Relieve School Crowding

Transfer of Commercial School to Old Premises and High School From Normal Building to Public School Considered

Transference of the Strathcona Commercial school to the old building, and accommodation of the Garneau high school in the Garneau public school building is the plan recommended by the management and health committee of the Edmonton Public School Board, at its meeting Tuesday evening, to alleviate the congested condition in the schools here.

WARM WEATHER FORECAST FOR CITY DISTRICT

Completely recovered from the effects of weekend rains, the thermometer in Edmonton soared into the upper brackets on Tuesday, reaching the 76 above mark at 3 p.m. for the highest reading of the day.

As on Tuesday, the sun weathered morning was broken by showers, temperature-building ceased. The mercury had climbed to 60 above by 9 a.m., and the forecast at that time was "warm."

During Tuesday night the red ink went down to 45 above, and registered at 3 a.m., and then climbed back into the higher readings.

Five showers sprinkled the city near north weather report at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, the spots receiving rain being Grand Prairie, Beaumont, Spirit River, Wainwright and Grouard. Temperature readings in the area at that time ranged from 70 above at Fort Vermilion to 40 above at Hudson Hope.

TEACHERS ARE FULL FLEDGED STAFF MEMBERS

Teachers to be appointed to the permanent staff of the Edmonton public school board, as recommended by the board, are: D. S. Atchuck, Glenora; A. G. Bayley, F. S. Bendle, Alex Taylor; Miss M. Bernstein, H. Allen Gray; Miss M. B. Brail, Hugh Lewis; Miss J. Campbell, P. J. Stinson; Miss D. M. G. Smith, St. James; Miss G. H. King, Edward Park; Miss N. Holmgren, Highlands; Miss S. Shortt, Sherwood; Miss M. Smith, Jasper Place; Miss Jessie Wetmore, Eastwood; Mrs. March, manual training institute; Miss J. Stoddard, household science; Mrs. A. Swanson, H. Allen Gray; Miss Young, manual training; Miss Mary Jackson, Highlands.

EASTERN MAN SEES SISTER FIRST TIME

Clyde MacDonald of Trenton, Nova Scotia, saw his sister, Mrs. E. S. McKee, 4021 1st avenue, for the first time in 17 years on Tuesday when he arrived in this city for a brief visit. Mrs. MacDonald left her home in Trenton before her brother, Clyde, was born.

Pensioner Comes Out Long Cam After Accident

Joseph Patterson, 55, pensioner from the Old Immigration Hall, who was knocked unconscious when he "walked into a street car" near the 104 street intersection on Jasper avenue Thursday night last, regained consciousness Tuesday afternoon, medical attendants advised he is in the general hospital.

In 1927 again joined staff of the dairy branch and was appointed director of the dairy laboratory in 1929. Resigning from that post to accept the post of chief dairy inspector and instructor to the Alberta government, he arrived here on Monday of this week to commence his duties. Religion: Anglican. Recreations: golf, curling, bowling. Societies: Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturalists, University of Saskatchewan Graduates Association, Club, Saskatchewan Grange Association, British Columbia Dairy Commissioners' office, legislative building.

Other Possibilities

Further possibilities of meeting the situation were also mentioned and discussed. First, to continue the Garneau high school in the Strathcona public school building, paying for the seven or eight rooms which are there, and an inconveniently located as they are. Second, to place the Garneau high school in the old building, using eight classrooms and keeping the portables or "chicken houses" in the old building. Third, limiting of the enrolment in this school strictly to 250, that of 36 to 40 in the Strathcona high school.

Mr. McKee was instructed to present a detailed report on the first alternative to the board meeting next Tuesday evening.

BASEMENT ROOMS

These living within the former Garneau high school on the north side of the river, near the Victoria high. The residue from the north side would have to be taken care of either at Strathcona or Victoria by filling basement rooms at the former or by use of the floating class at the latter. There also the double shift device which is used at Strathcona, though the rooms and facilities are far from satisfactory for the purpose.
